5. Draft of Bylaws Revision

(Discussion Possible for Action) The committee discussed the draft revision of the bylaws to bring back to the full General ECAC meeting.

Tiffany Alston, and Patrice Gardner, ECAC Leadership Co-Chairs

- Tiffany Alston discussed the need to present the revised bylaws to the general ECAC meeting on March 20th. she mentioned that the subcommittee had previously discussed adding the option of having non-members become co-chairs on the subcommittees.
- Marty Elquist- The language proposed for the revisions is as follows: "Each subcommittee shall have one chair who is a voting member of the council and an option to elect a co-chair from the committee who is not a voting member of the council." As referred to in the previous meeting minutes.
- Marty Elquist- having the option for co-chairs is important for flexibility and to avoid attendance and quorum issues.
she mentioned that the proposed language would replace the existing language on page three, section three, item C of the bylaws. She added that the following was also proposed: "The chair of the standing committee has the option to select a Co-Chair who is a member of the committee, but not a voting member of the Council".
- Marty Elquist offered to provide a word version of the last approved bylaws to Sabrina Jones ECAC System Specialist.

Nevada Early Childhood Advisory Council

- Tiffany Alston confirmed all proposed language with the subcommittee.
- Tiffany Alston asked Sabrina Jones to redline the bylaws document, including the revisions, and noted that this will be posted with the meeting materials for the March 20th General ECAC meeting.
- Denise Tanata pointed out that the list of members in the bylaws document is not updated since AB 114, and Tiffany Alston asked Sabrina to update it along with the revisions.
- Rachel Stepina asked about consolidating two NRS laws related to AB411 membership list, and Denise Tanata suggested NRS language be changed together with the Legislative Council Bureau. The finalization could take a while.
- Rachel Stepina pointed out that the subcommittee agrees to review and make any additional necessary changes to the bylaws as a whole, in line with the requirement to review them every two years.
- Rachel Stepina suggests looking for any other immediate changes that could be made within the bylaws and encourages the subcommittee to consider this opportunity.
- Marty Elquist recommended sticking to the plan of presenting today's proposed changes to get them approved quickly and then convening an ad hoc committee for a thorough bylaw review.
- Marty Elquist suggested that a comprehensive review of the bylaws is necessary and proposed convening an ad hoc committee at a later meeting for a thorough review.
- Tiffany Alston confirmed with the committee that adding an ad hoc committee can be added to the agenda under the bylaw's discussion for March ECAC agenda, and that non-voting members would be invited to participate in the ad hoc committee.
- Marty Elquist and Tiffany Alston discussed the process of creating the ad hoc committee and appointing a chair according to the ECAC bylaws.
